

SCHOOL SAVINGS SYSTEM STARTED

New Thrift Movement Begun By Students Guided By Teachers.

OTHER SCHOOL NOTES

The installation of a school savings system in Narberth to encourage thrift among the students was announced this week in a statement from the school office.

On Tuesday "The Educational Thrift Service" installed a school savings system throughout the schools. The system has been very generally adopted throughout the country. Because of its simple but effective plan, requiring little work for the teacher, it has displaced many of the more cumbersome systems.

The aim of the system is to inculcate the saving habit. If 68 per cent. of American families are insolvent as shown by statistics, there is evidently need of some medium to counteract the tendency. Large deposits are not solicited, but a deposit from each child, no matter how small the amount, is the desired end. One penny starts an account. Wednesday is banking day.

Pupils who already have savings accounts may transfer their school bank accounts to the other at any time.

The first banking day's deposits totaled $126.10. The Third Grade, Miss MacMorran, was the only section having 100 per cent. of the pupils as depositors. They hold the banner for the current week.

School Notes.

The Keygan Camp Fire has resumed activities for 1926-1927. At a recent meeting officers were elected and plans discussed for the year. We regret very much the loss of five of our members due to extra work at Lower Merion.

Do you remember our Christmas bazaar of last year? We are planning to make our second annual one much larger and better. There will be pirates and their plunders, French maids to serve tea to you and your friends, as well as many other novel features. Watch for the posters! December 4 is the date for the "Camp Fire Bazaar."

Thursday evening we are having a mothers-daughters get-together in the form of a "Holly-wood Party."

Greetings and Kola—new Camp Fire Girls of N. J. H. S. We know you are bubbling over with camp fire spirit and hope you will find true happiness in the Wohelo of "Camp Fire."

A new camp fire group of Seventh and Eighth Grade girls has been organized this week in addition to the Kiyagan group, formed in 1924, and still in existence. At present the group consists of 10 girls: Adele August, Edith Funk and Dorothy Mackell, of the Eighth Grade, and Frances Little, Betty Magarity, Dorothy Maier, Harriet Marsh, Mabel Millard, Mary Jean Poorman and Ruth Suplee, of the Seventh Grade. Miss Tyson is their guardian, with Miss McKay as assistant guardian.

Many new books have been added to the library list since the first of September. They will be listed in full next week.

Dr. Hubble and Miss Kevorkian have completed the medical examination of the children. A full report of their findings will be published in next week's issue.

Miss Kevorkian and Mr. Wilson attended the meeting of the suburban group on Thursday at the University of Pennsylvania.

Fire drills have been held during the week in both schools.

The Junior Red Cross contributions will be received during the week of October 11. This is the only object outside of school affairs to which pupils are permitted to contribute money during the year.

Remodeling of Old Firehouse Recalls Interesting History

How fickle is destiny! Soon the merry ring of the cash register will sound in a building erected to house a dashing volunteer fire company.

No, Elm Hall is not to pass into the hands of a grocer, but Narberth's other fire house will.

Within the next few weeks carpenters and painters will be at work in the building at Nos. 246-48 Haverford avenue, transforming it into a store, which will be occupied by the A. & P. Tea Company.

Few residents of the borough, perhaps, realize that the structure just vacated by J. A. Miller and James R. Cole was once a fire house. Its graceful tower has often been regarded as merely an ornament, a relic of the architecture of the late Nineteenth Century.

But once a large bell hung in the tower, and a handful of residents pointed to the building as the home of the "opposition" fire company.

We are told that in 1894—when Narberth was still a part of Lower Merion township—the authorities supported the Narberth Volunteer Fire Company, which afforded protection to the score or so of houses which were scattered over Narberth's square mile of open fields.

"IN AGAIN" BOLLARD

Once More in Toils of Police—Arrested Twice in One Day.

Berardino Vanitelli, of Narberth, better known as Bill Bollard, who has been playing a game of "in again, out again" with the township police at Ardmore, again landed in the toils of the Lower Merion police Tuesday when he was arrested twice in the same day on different charges.

The first time it was for passing a bad check on J. M. Cranston, of Cynwyd. The second arrest was for driving a truck with a passenger car license. The first charge was settled at a hearing before Magistrate Kromer when Bollard made good the check amounting to $8.85. On the second charge he was fined $20 and costs.

Bollard has been in repeated difficulties with the police. Once before he has been arrested on a bad check charge, three times he has been picked up for driving without a license and recently he was taken to headquarters when he crashed into the delivery truck of Charles B. Aldred, Cynwyd grocer, on Meeting House lane, Narberth.

Magistrate Kromer has certified his record to the State Motor Vehicle Department and asked that he be blacklisted and his license revoked.

NO SPICKER OR SPANNER

Of the thousands of Pennsylvania State firemen who paraded in Philadelphia Thursday there were no more trim, nor finer apparatus, than the contingent from Narberth.

All three of the local engines, the chemical truck, the hook and ladder and the big pumper were in line, cleaned of every speck of dust, and with all metal work shining until the eyes hurt to look upon it.

Thirty of the volunteers attended the parade, dressed in the company's attractive new dress uniforms. The splendid appearance of the borough unit drew praise from all quarters.

The American La France Company loaned a pumping truck and driver to Narberth while the regular apparatus was on parade. George B. Suplee was acting chief, and kept in touch with Cynwyd, so that the available apparatus could defend any part of the Main Line where fire might break out.

LUTHERAN PLAY AND RECITAL

A play and recital given by the pupils of Miss D. A. Shoenaker, principal of the National School of Elocution and Oratory, will be given in the Lutheran Church, at Woodbine and Narberth avenues, on Thursday evening, October 21. No tickets will be sold; a silver offering will be made.

The Lutherans have three interesting events that are open to the public. First, is the October play and recital; next, is a "Saur Krout Supper," for which the date is set, November 18. The supper is an annual affair, planned to be made better each year.

The third event is scheduled for December 3. The blind boys from the Overbrook school have promised to appear. Further announcements will be made in the near future.

SMITH MAKES DEBUT

Before Rotarians as Speaker Says Police Open to Suggestions.

Superintendent Charles P. Smith, of the Lower Merion police, made his debut as an orator Tuesday evening when he appeared as principal speaker before the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club at its monthly business meeting held at the Cynwyd Club.

He disclaimed forensic ability, however. "I want to be known as a doer not as a talker," he told the club.

He did touch briefly on traffic and other police problems in his talk, but spent the most of his time telling the Rotarians of his pleasure in getting back to this part of the country where he spent his youth. He concluded with a request for co-operation with his department.

"I haven't had a chance to get acquainted with all of you since I got on the job in Lower Merion," he said. "But I want you to know that headquarters at Ardmore are always open and accessible and that we will always be open to suggestion there."

John A. Crimmins, of Bala-Cynwyd, and Langdon C. Odiorne, of Narberth, were voted into the club as new members. They were greeted by Rev. George Barnes, of Overbrook, founder of the club, and were then officially welcomed by President Alvin E. Shull.

Mr. Shull, Secretary Boyd and James Carroll, who attended the recent fiftieth convention of Rotary executives in Atlantic City, gave reports on what transpired there.

LEGION PLANS CARD PARTY

A mixed card party in the Community Building, November 5, was planned by a joint meeting of the American Legion and the Women's Auxiliary, held Tuesday night. Commander Allen Shubert and Mrs. E. H. Wipf presided.

Subscriptions will be limited, because the building seats only 250 people, to 125 tickets to members of the auxiliary and their friends, and 125 tickets to Legion men and their friends. Mrs. W. R. O'Sullivan (phone No. Narberth 1702-M) is handling tickets for the auxiliary, and Mrs. Thomas Kerrigan, Narberth (Narberth 2718) is in charge of tickets for the Legion.

Sketches for the decoration of the hall have been submitted, and refreshments will be served by a caterer. Business men will be canvassed for donations of inexpensive prizes. Another and later card party will be planned for those who will be unable to obtain the limited number of tickets for November 5.

MEMORIAL MASS

A Month's Mind Mass for the late Rev. Richard F. Cowley, founder of St. Margaret's Catholic Church and its pastor for more than twenty-five years, will be said on Wednesday, October 13, 1926.

Memorial cards containing Father Cowley's picture will be distributed to all those attending this Mass.

BUS COMPANY TO AID TRAFFIC JAM

Will Reroute Lines Through Borough to Relieve Main Streets.

TO ENFORCE PARKING

Narberth's new parking rules will go into effect as soon as action is taken on an application of the Montgomery Bus Company for change of schedule, in order to aid the borough to relieve its traffic congestion. At Monday's meeting it is expected that the Council will give its consent to one of the two proposed new changes; the other changes had already been granted the old Narberth bus company before its merger, but it had not made use of the franchise.

At present the busses run along Essex avenue to Haverford, along Haverford to Narberth, and along Narberth to Montgomery, within the borough limits. It is now proposed that the through line from Ardmore to Sixty-third street and Lancaster avenue shall run along Essex avenue to Haverford and along Haverford to Narberth as heretofore, but that it shall now extend along Haverford to Montgomery, instead of turning the sharp, congested corner and running up Narberth avenue to Montgomery. This will cut off Narberth avenue.

The short line to Cynwyd will run along Narberth avenue as before, and along Haverford to Forest, but it will cut off Haverford avenue between Forest and Essex, and run instead along Forest to Windsor, along Windsor to Essex, and then up Essex to Montgomery. This will eliminate three busses an hour on congested Haverford avenue between Forest and Essex avenues.

Burgess Henry A. Frye states that at last a call box is expected to be installed in front of the American Store the first of the week. As soon as this is done, and the bus schedule is changed, the new regulations will be put into effect, with an officer on duty all the time to see that the rules are enforced.

JOHN S. DIAMOND

John S. Diamond, of 113 Woodside avenue, died at his home Wednesday morning after a prolonged illness. He was 54 years of age.

Mr. Diamond had resided in Narberth seventeen years, during which time he made a host of friends. His wife died shortly after the family moved to the Borough.

He is survived by five daughters, Mrs. John Stapleton, of Germantown, and the Misses Frances, Lillian, Eleanor and Constance Diamond. He is also survived by a sister, Mrs. Charles Quinn, of Philadelphia.

Funeral services will be held this morning from St. Margaret's Church, and burial, which will be private, will be at Holy Sepulchre Cemetery.

D. A. R. MEETS SATURDAY

The regular meeting of the Dr. Benjamin Rush Chapter, of the Daughters of the American Revolution, will be held at the home of Mrs. Robert Dothard, Wynnewood avenue, Narberth, at 2.30 Saturday afternoon, the 16th. Mrs. Samuel Z. Shope, regent, will preside.

SCOUT FATHERS TO MEET

The first joint meeting of the Boy Scout Troop Committee with the board of directors of the Fathers' Association for the season will be held Friday evening, the 15th, in "The Cabin."

The meeting will be presided over by E. P. Dold, president of the Fathers' Association. It will be called to order at 8 o'clock.

The change in the meeting night of the Scouts, from Monday to Friday evening, has met with the hearty approval of all. I. N. Wilson, Scoutmaster, has presided at the first two meetings of the boys since the beginning of the fall activities.

RUSH OF COAL ORDERS

Cool weather last week brought many belated orders for winter fuel to Bala-Cynwyd and Main Line coal dealers.

Plenty of hard coal for the winter's needs is stored in the retail yards of the county, with little prospect of shortage or soaring prices, it was declared in coal circles today. Extraordinary advances in prices may be expected only in the event of an exclusively cold winter that interferes with the flow of coal on the railroads from the mines and its distribution from retail yards.

ASH COLLECTION STARTS MONDAY

Regular Winter Schedule of Collections Is Announced.

CHANGES IN ROUTES

The regular winter schedule of weekly ash collections will be resumed through the borough Monday and will continue regularly until late next spring, announces Robert F. Wood, chairman of highways. There will be certain changes in the collection route owing principally to the increased number of streets and houses which have to be served.

New residents should be informed that the ash collection service is rendered to all residents of Narberth and borough, free of charge. All that the householder is required to do is to deposit his ashes in metal receptacles and to place them outside his cellar once each week on the day when the collection is to be made along his street. It is not necessary to carry the ash receptacles out to the curb nor to place them conspicuously in front of the houses. The borough collectors will go to the rear of the house to get the receptacles and will return them to that point.

There is a rule with reference to ash collections, which old residents as well as new should bear in mind, and that is, that ashes should be kept free from all kinds of rubbish. Bottles, tin cans, broken glass and paper rubbish should be kept in separate wooden receptacles. This rule has been quite generally disregarded in the past.

If the borough could be sure that it could always obtain clean ashes which were free from all kinds of rubbish, there would be frequent opportunities to sell those ashes to people who were seeking material for filling.

It should also be borne in mind that beginning next week, garden trimmings and refuse will not be collected. The collection routes by days of the week will be as follows:

Monday.

Conway avenue, from Haverford to Price; Price avenue, from Conway to Dudley avenue; Stewart avenue, from Conway to Dudley avenue; Windsor avenue, from Wynnewood to Essex avenue; Narbrook Park; Wynnewood avenue, from Windsor to Montgomery avenue; Sabine avenue, from Wynnewood avenue to Dudley avenue; Homewood avenue; Beechwood lane; Wynnewood court; Montgomery avenue, from Wynnewood to Essex avenue; Shady lane; Wyndale avenue; Dudley avenue, from Haverford to Wyndale avenue; Haverford avenue, from Conway to Dudley avenue.

LOW MEMBERSHIP WORRIES FIREMEN

EQUIPMENT EXPENSIVE

In Narberth and its adjacent territory we are told that some 8000 people reside. These people depend almost exclusively upon the Narberth Fire Company for protection and low insurance.

At the monthly meeting of the fire company last week it was reported that out of this population there were 195 paid-up contributing members. As the yearly dues amount to but $3, the officers are wearing deep frowns, wondering what can be done to shake Narberth out of its slumbers.

There are 34 active and 475 contributing members on the rolls—the latter figure representing less than one-third of the number of homes served. Of the total, 314 are still delinquent, with the year rapidly drawing to a close.

One of the officers, in commenting on the situation, said this week: "Such a lack of co-operation, and such a shirking of evident responsibilities are beyond my comprehension. We ask but $3 a year from each family as its share in maintaining the company, and less than 200 families have paid up."

"We purchased expensive new equipment, so as to keep the insurance rates down, and less than 10 per cent. of the home-owners have been willing to co-operate to the extent of paying dues amounting to but a fraction of the actual insurance costs our company saves them."

"I wonder what a man would think, if we were called to save his home at 3 o'clock in the morning? After three pieces of highly-specialized modern equipment, manned by a crew of 34 skillfully trained volunteers had put out the fire he would realize that he was on the forgetful list? Probably a check for $100 or so would be sent to the company out of gratitude, but there would still be the realization that he had failed to bear his share of the yearly burdens necessary to keep us running."

The Narberth Fire Company is a volunteer organization, answerable to the borough, which pays part of the expense of financing the new borough equipment out of tax money. It requests, with justice, the membership of every family, at a nominal fee of $3 per year.

There are scores of families not members; there are many more not paid up. To those who have read this account, and who are not among the 195 good citizens paid up, the company has issued an urgent appeal that a check for $3 be quietly and quickly slipped into an envelope addressed to "The Narberth Fire Company, Narberth, Pa." A membership card will be sent, and the sender of the check will be cleared of the reproach of accepting service without return.

MANY NEW SHARES

A most successful meeting of the Narberth American Legion Building and Loan Association was held Tuesday night in the Narberth Coal Office.

All records for numbers of shares issued were broken with the new series opened at that time. Many new residents were attracted by the newspaper advertising and attractive window displays and joined the Association.

The directors have called attention to the fact that anyone may take out new shares any time during the month without the payment of a fine. If new shares are desired at the next meeting they can be started by paying the entrance fee and two months' dues.

The "information department" of the association is now in the Narberth Coal Office, where Director Dunne is anxious to answer any queries which might be brought to him.

FREDERICK C. DURANT

Frederick C. Durant, who had been ill for several years, died early Tuesday morning at his home at 1900 Rittenhouse Square, Philadelphia. The funeral services were held yesterday afternoon in Holy Trinity Church, and the burial will be in Albany, N. Y., this afternoon.

Mr. Durant, who lived for a time on Glenn road, Ardmore, was a member of the Rittenhouse Club and the old Seventh Regiment of New York. He is survived by his wife, Clara E., a daughter of the late Joseph Harrison, Jr.; a daughter Ethel, of Stratford; four sons, F. Clark, Jr., of Philadelphia, Harrison, of Cynwyd, Kenneth, of New York, and Douglas, of Narberth, editor of the Main Liner; and a brother, Charles W., of West Chester.

NEW OFFICE HOURS

The Narberth Coal Company has announced the establishment of new hours for its yard and offices.

Hereafter the office will open and the delivery schedule will begin at 8 A. M. instead of 7 as formerly. The closing time will be 5.30.

The company believes that the shortening of the hours will result in greater efficiency on the part of the delivery force, and will be in accordance with progressive ideas of industrial hours.

AT SESQUI MASS

Commodore Walter O'Sullivan, assisted by J. J. Cabrey, led the parade of 110 men from St. Margaret's Church, Sunday morning, to the special train chartered for the occasion.

The train, which arrived at Narberth at 7.30 A. M., reached Broad Street Station in time to join the thousands of other Catholics who marched to the Sesqui grounds, where Cardinal Dougherty officiated at a Pontifical Mass attended by 300,000.

The new pastor, Father Hayes, acted as honorary marshal. The men carried flags, and wore appropriate arm bands.

ENTERTAIN FIRE CHIEFS

Fire chiefs attending the convention in Philadelphia were entertained at a dinner and dance given by Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Boulay, No. 237 Iona avenue, Tuesday evening. The guests included:

Wilkes-Barre Fire Chief Shockreiter and Mrs. Shockreiter; Mr. Frank Dean, fire chief of Lancaster and Mrs. Dean; Mr. John Ferry, Norristown chief and Mrs. Ferry; Mr. John Devlin, fire chief of Plymouth and Mrs. Devlin; Mayor Harris, of Catasauqua; Mr. and Mrs. Sabie Censore, of Narberth; Mr. and Mrs. Dasher and daughter, Mildred Dasher, of Cynwyd, and Mr. Charles Ebert, of Narberth.

The first fall meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Narberth Presbyterian Church will be held Wednesday the 13th, from 10 to 4. Luncheon will be served at 1 o'clock. Articles for the coming anniversary sale at the "Home for Widows and Single Women" will be brought in to this meeting.

ARE YOU A MEMBER?

If So, You Can Attend the Annual Meeting Next Monday Evening.

The Narberth Community Library Association will hold its annual meeting at the library Monday night, October 11, at 8 o'clock. This meeting is for the purpose of hearing the annual reports, of electing members to the board of directors, and of attending to whatever business may come up.

The members of the association are all those who have contributed money for the support of the library during the past year. Those who have contributed at least $1 are annual members and are eligible to vote at the meeting, and those who have contributed $25 or more are life members and they are eligible also. A cordial invitation is extended to all members to be present at this meeting.

Any one not already a member may become one by paying $1 to any of the desk assistants at the library, and Mrs. Guldah B. Moore, secretary of the association, will then mail to the new member a membership card.

The Library Association at the present time is composed of about 200 members, and since everyone in the borough is eligible to membership, it is desirable to increase this number. The members of the association have no more privileges in the library itself than those who are not members; they do, however, give financial aid and they make a fine list of those public-spirited men and women of the borough, who believe in library work for the community and who wish to contribute to its support.

WOMEN VOTERS TO ELECT

Mrs. John Y. Huber, Jr., of Wynnewood, will address the League of Women Voters on "The Coming Election" and "The Direct Primary," in the Y. M. C. A. Building, on Forest avenue, Monday afternoon at 3.30.

Mrs. Huber, who is the daughter of the late Judge Miller, will be found most interesting. Preceding her address, the league will elect officers for the coming year.

A part of the new concrete road being laid on Wynnewood avenue was opened this week to traffic. There have been many words in praise of the new road.

School opened with an enrollment of 393. The enrollment was curtailed by the epidemic of paralysis.

Shirley road, a private drive, has been treated with Tarvia. This was necessitated, owing to the road having been badly cut up by drivers of cars and teams, who used it as a detour to escape the holes and ruts on Haverford avenue.

Several of the graduates of the Narberth High School have left for various colleges, among them Carroll Downes, who has gone to Dartmouth; Marion Haws, to Wilson College; Hilda Smedley, to Sargent School, Boston, and Estelle Cohic, to Wyoming Seminary.

Mr. Alex Gillilan, of Radnor, Pa., has purchased a home at 103 Rockland avenue.

HOURS
8 A. M. to 5.30 P. M.

We have discovered that shorter hours make for greater efficiency among our staff of workers. In keeping with some of the changes that have been made in the modern industrial world—which is even now contemplating a five-day week—we have shortened our working day. Our hours, which formerly began at 7 A. M., will NOW BE FROM 8 A. M. TO 5.30 P. M.

Your convenience has also been considered in this change, since your deliveries will arrive, as usual, on the day scheduled, but at an hour less likely to intrude upon your last minutes of pleasant early morning slumber.

Christmas!

Not So Far Away At That!

IN TWO months we will be searching the Stores for Gifts for the folks at home and to be sent far away. Also we will be searching for the funds to meet this sudden drain upon the family exchequer.

What a surprise, then, to receive a fat check in December, representing a year's saving in the Narberth National Bank Christmas Club, plus generous interest. Truly, the receipt of such a check may be counted among the "Kicks" of Life.

NOW IS THE TIME TO PLAN FOR A CLUB NEXT YEAR—A NEW ONE OR A LARGER ONE—AND TO BE SURE YOUR CARD IS UP TO DATE. IT'S THE PLEASANTEST KIND OF SAVING THERE IS.

The Luther League listened very attentively to a very good Bible talk by Lester E. Peters.

In the general services the attendance and the spirit manifested by the worshippers was very fine, and the pastor's heart was greatly cheered. Let it be made complete by a holy and helpful Communion.

BOWLING SEASON ON

First Match.

The Narberth Inter-Church Bowling League opened the fall series on Monday evening, October 4, with a good turnout of bowlers and boosters. For the benefit of those fans who were not able to be present, due to prior very important engagements, we will advise that we have some choice front row reserved seats for visitors.

Get the habit of dropping into the basement of the Baptist Church on Monday and Friday evenings of each week. On Monday evening, October 11, the Lutheran Lions will try to devour the Baptist Boosters, and Friday evening, October 15, is Shouting Methodist night—the Marathons meet the Meteors. This will be a hot match—they are champions.

OLD FIRE HOUSE TO BECOME GROCERY STORE

Clothier, active in Narberth at that time, were at loggerheads with the constituted authorities, and in the course of many acrimonious meetings, stepped hard on the pride of their opponents by reviling the fire company.

So, to express their disapproval of things as they were, they resolved to found their own company, so that Narberth's 100 or so people would be properly protected.

Soon the new building was ready, with an impressive bell, and runways on which the galloping steeds would draw forth the hoses, tanks, ladders and hooks.

But the sight of two competing companies racing madly to a crackling blaze was not to beguile the citizens, for hard days fell upon the two builders. Soon bankruptcy brought to a close their activities, and the fire house was sold, together with the remainder of the block.

Mrs. Albert C. Clothier, sister-in-law of one of the partners, purchased the block from the present station plaza to Narberth avenue, with the exception of Howard E. Davis' store, which he took title to at that time.

The recently-established coal yard made use of the erstwhile fire house as a stable. First, Caldwell brothers (John A. and Robert W., still residents of the borough), then Rosenberger, and finally Chester P. Cook kept their truck horses in the building.

Mr. Cook purchased the Clothier holdings for $13,000 in 1906. The property included practically an entire block. The growth in Narberth values during the past 20 years has made the land worth from 10 to 20 times its price in 1906.

Businesses now located on the tract include: The Narberth Coal Company, "Our Town," Carlo Moezzone, Walter Schlupp, Narberth Plumbing and Heating Company, T. A. Kerrigan and Son, B. G. Constantine, a Barber Shop, Narberth Electric Shop, J. A. Miller, J. R. Cole (removed), A. & P., Chris Koch, S. J. Thomas, Hewitt's, Narberth Variety Store, Narberth Fruit Store.

When Mr. Cook moved his horses to another and larger stable, a shop for the repair of the then youthful and often-pailing automobile was established by Chapman and Allender. Upstairs a Negro barber, by the name of Alex Holmes, tended to the tonorial needs of Main Liners from Overbrook to Ardmore.

When the repair shop passed into the realm of forgotten things, George Sheldon established the Narberth's blacksmith shop. The ring of the anvil was heard from the old building until 1921, when the shop was closed.

In that year, the occupancy passed to J. A. Miller, roofer, and James R. Cole, painter. Mr. Miller, whose business had been established about two years at that time, proceeded to develop a large and comprehensive service in the new quarters. His business finally included roofing, sheet metal work, gutters and spouting, heaters and ranges, cornices, skylights, refrigerator repairs—all handled from the growing shop on the second floor.

With enlarged machinery, more complicated work was tackled, and during the past few years, Narberth has produced many of the automatic traffic signal used in Lower Merion township and in the Sixty-ninth street section. These were turned out at the Haverford avenue shop.

Painting trucks, extension ladders and other painting equipment used by Mr. Cole filled the old fire house, and made it a scene of activity.

But that last phase of the building's life has passed, and soon its aspect will be changed. Mr. Cole moved his office to his home last week, and placed the painting equipment in a garage in the Narberth coal yard. Mr. Miller has moved to his own two-story building, constructed for him at No. 111 Forest avenue, by George Markle.

A store front and interior changes will soon transform the old landmark. The bell has been gone for years, having been sold to the Colored Baptist Church of Ardmore, and an empty tower will surmount the store.

The work is to be done by Thomas J. Kerrigan, who has prepared plans in harmony with the business section. A plan to place a clock in the old tower has been laid aside due to the expense involved.

Thus another step is to be taken which will soon remove practically every trace of the borough as it was when founded 31 years ago.

It always pays to advertise.
